

Tops in Blue rolling into Kiva Auditorium

The premier entertainment showcase of the Air Force, Tops in Blue, brings its "Soaring with Eagles" to Albuquerque's Kiva Auditorium, Feb. 3, at 7 p.m.

The evening of free musical entertainment and visual delight is performed by Air Force members who travel worldwide, entertaining America's warfighters. But the show in Albuquerque is presented for everyone to enjoy.

Musical selections range from Tina Turner's "Proud Mary" and the Supremes to MC Hammer, BOYZ II MEN and Ricky Martin in the medley performance.

Transportation for active duty military and their families is provided from Kirtland AFB. The shuttle bus collection point is the parking lot to the east of the Thunderbird Inn Building 20350.

There are Shuttles every 30 minutes between 4:30-6 p.m. The shuttles leave the Kiva after the show at 9:15 p.m.

If you wish to drive, parking fees in the area range from $5-$8, so the shuttle is a cost-effective alternative for military families.

Seating for active duty military members is 5-6 p.m. and for the general public begins at 6 p.m.

The Kiva Auditorium is in the Albuquerque Convention Center, at Second and Tijeras streets.

Tops in Blue is sponsored by AT&T, First Command Financial Planning, Sandia Laboratory Federal Credit Union, Kirtland Federal Credit Union, AAFAA and the College of Santa Fe.

Hold off embroidering logo

Air Force clothing office officials are asking Airmen to wait a few weeks before having their lightweight blue jackets embroidered with the Air Force logo.

"We've had an overwhelmingly positive response in regards to placing the logo on the jacket," said Libby Glade, Air Force clothing office chief. "However, we have also received numerous questions from embroidery vendors and private individuals about the logo. We are revising the technical data to obtain an embroidery software format to ensure a high-quality, consistent appearance."

A contractor is currently working on a digitized pattern, which will be available online at www.af.mil/airforcetory by the first week of February, Ms. Glade said.

Besides the digitized pattern, complete, updated specifications for embroidery will be available online. These specifications will include a diagram of logo placement and design elements, such as thread color and number, font style and size, stitch style and count, and spacing.
